

Dr. Schagen joins the network of CTAdvisors.

“Euro Cosmetics” readers may already know Dr. Silke Schagen as a specialist author of various dermatological, medical and cosmetic publications. Silke Schagen founded her company in Berlin over five years ago. Dr. Schagen Marketing und Kommunikation prepares scientific data and new research results for different target groups and customer information. Further expanding her field of activities, Dr. Schagen will launch Beldio Research GmbH in Memmingen during December 2016, a new company operating as a contract research partner for the pharmaceutical and cosmetic industries.

Dr. Schagen Marketing und Kommunikation joining CTAdvisors was announced during SEPAWA 2016 in Fulda. CTAdvisors is an association of independent experts and consultants of the chemical industry in Europe. Founded in 2012 by Heiko Bünting and Dr. Zoltán Szilágyi, CTAdvisors builds upon an international and widely branched network helping their customers to opening new business opportunities, introducing new business partners, developing new products and markets and introducing products in selected regions.

The affiliation of Dr. Schagen Marketing und Kommunikation with CTAdvisors combines the professional skills of marketing, communication and contract research with sales strategies and international partners and markets.
